WHAT IS TOP TEN?

by

Ted Haartz

Our annual Short Course and Long Course Top Ten Times and Records compilation mean a lot of things to a lot of people. First and foremost, it is a general statement reflecting how rapidly various groups of swimmers were able to cover specific distances with specific strokes in specific age groups. It reflects the current state of development of Masters swimming.

Secondly, it represents a "labor of love". The 9 - 10 thousand lines of information in its printed form represent but a small fraction of data which is received. There is no magic involved. Some very dedicated people, both on the local and national level, devote many hours to compiling association and national Top Tens. They strive for accuracy. Unfortunately, errors in the form of duplication, typos, transpositions, misspellings, wrong age groups, incorrect times, and omissions do occur. (Errors which are called to our attention within a month of publication, are corrected in a subsequent issue of Swim Master.)

On the other hand, Top Ten is a form of recognition. It is also a standard by which other swimmers set goals for themselves. However, because of the volumes of work involved and because Top Ten is a statement of the current "state of the art" and not terribly important as a historical document, we cannot accede to requests to change data that is 2 or 3 years old, or correct some of the minor misspellings and typos once they are printed. We would suggest that each swimmer be sure that his/her times are correct in meet results, whether these results are forwarded directly to the National Top Ten committee or to the local association committee for compilation. Providing your best times and their dates is much easier on all of us if done before Top Ten is published.

HOW I TRAIN?

My best times come from training up to 750 yds four times a week, easy pace with a survival 50 fly (that pace at which I can finish without discomfort). Increased yardage yields slower times and when an event becomes laborious I have been known to stop. This isn't meant to demean those who work long and hard, but my program is for one who recognizes the benefits of swimming but doesn't enjoy it all that much. The advantage of my program is that it is more efficient (law of diminishing returns), and one has more excuses for not doing well along with a nice bath.

MASTERS SWIMMING WORKS FOR ALL

Ken Krueger

Many older people think swimming is something to do only on a sunny day with some good wine (drinks) to cool off and relax. This idea is refuted by the ever growing Masters Swimming program. Swimming for the older age groups should always be recreational. The water is a relaxing, non-gravitational media, perfect for (1) people with joint problems, it doesn't aggravate joints like jogging does, (2) pregnant women, (3) overweight (obese) people, the water bouys them and lets them exercise without discomfort, (4) secretary spread, kicking with fins is great for this, (5) asmatics, the regular breathing is very beneficial according to many medical studies, (6) people with back problems, etc.

As men and women get into the business-working life, they tend to forget the benefits of exercise. They want a martini and easy chair when they arrive home from work exhausted. Yet today many people realize that vigorous exercise, such as swimming, after the mental strain of work, relaxes you. Consequently you don't need a martini and you feel invigorated after a hard workout.

The benefits of swimming for older age groups may be better realized through the following examples: Ben Sheybeler, 49, reduced his pulse rate from 80 to 60, thus lowering the possibility of a heart attack. The heart grew more efficient. Dr. Ernest Hale, 67, came to me at 64 with a desire of winning a medal at National Masters Championships when he turned 65. He had never competed before. After one year of training he won a gold medal in a relay, plus other medals. After his second year of training he won the 100 fly at Masters Nationals in Ft. Lauderdale. Bonnie Christofferson, 41, lost over 45 pounds firmly. Bob Fehn, 53, who after having a heart attack is swimming daily with only half a heart, but is months ahead of other similar cases in his recovery/rehabilitation. Also increasing feeling in his legs. Ken Krueger, 32, was paralyzed years ago in a diving accident after having been an All American Swimmer at U.S.C. Part of his therapy was, and is, swimming. He has since become mobile and has set various Masters National records.

SAMPLE PROGRAM

Three years ago I started an adult swimming for fitness and conditioning class at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut, CA. Blessed with a beautiful 25 yd by 50 mtr pool (water 78°) and good Southern California weather the program blossomed.

We have swimmers from 18 to 68 years old. Many are married with children working, etc. Consequently the watch word for the program is FLEXIBILITY. You must have a fairly individualized program. We break ours up into three categories. One, those who want to swim laps on their own. Two, swimmers who want us to give them a workout to get, or stay, in shape. Three, competitive swimmers, from local to World Masters Championships. We give all three stroke work.

During warm weather we spend 15 minutes on flexibility exercises, which become more important the older you get. Workouts vary, individually, from 800 - 5,000 yards. Strokes and distances vary. I encourage the swimmers, especially the older ones, to use fins for kicking drills. This helps improve ankle flexibility and leg strength, usually lacking in older swimmers. This kicking also improves the vascular system of the legs, one cause of heart attacks and strokes.

Masters swimming goes hand in hand with the AAU age group and senior programs. It is a logical continuum. In our program they work out in different lanes of the pool at the same time. We are a mutually encouraging team. The youngsters see the "old folks" train hard, consequently they feel bad if they slack off. The old folks train hard to be "young again", like their young compatriots. Public pools including colleges could be utilized more effectively if they had adult education programs at various times during the day and evening. Sections of the pool could be used for Masters conditioning classes, housewives swimming, handicapped swimming, lessons for adults who could then go on to the conditioning classes. There are senior citizens who do not go out at night so classes for conditioning could be held at the same time as day swimming classes. Most Y's do not have set programs for swimming. They should. High School and college pools go unused most of the day. Let's utilize the latent potential of both pool and adult by setting up adult swimming for fitness and conditioning.

SUMMARY: I would like to see other programs like this throughout the United States and the world. (There are 2,000 swimmers in one Masters club in Germany). Sedentary adults are ones most in need of exercise. Let's give them all a chance. Olympic hopefuls are not the only ones in need of encouragement.

SAMPLE WORKOUTS

Old Sternwheeler's Masters Monthly

This month, we are going to write an 8 workout sequence for the beginner swimmer. The guy or gal who just came from his/her doctor's office, stress test, and clean bill of cardio-vascular health.

Day 1
12 x 1 length swims,
rest completely
between swims,
use any stroke.

Total Yds. 300

Day 2

Total: 800 yds.

Competitive Swimming Helps Him Master Aging

Chuck Wilson's swimming keeps him 63 years young

MILWAUKEE SENTINEL

By JILL LIEBER

Chuck Wilson has found a way to turn back time.

The 63 year old Whitefish Bay man began a new life three years ago, opening doors to a younger spirit and a healthier body. All Wilson did was dust off his old bathing suit, buy a pair of goggles and dig through his linen closet for a large towel.

And after 35 years of being a land lover, Wilson took the plunge. He began swimming competitively again.

"I had to rekindle the old spirit," he joked. "Sometimes ex-jocks get that urge. And now, I feel like a new person."

Wilson was a world class freestyler in his early 20s and qualified for the 400 meter relay team in the 1936 Berlin Olympics. A former football and basketball player during his high school years in Chicago, Wilson gave up both sports when he entered the University of Chicago. He said his body couldn't take the wear and tear.

Always a sports nut, he then tried swimming as a means to stay in shape. Soon he found himself among a select few in the world. But the thrill of victory didn't last too long.

"The last competitive swimming I did was in 1940," Wilson said. "At that time, I was in the top four nationally and in the top 10 in world rankings.

"But then I laid off for 35 years. Oh, I picked up golf. You know, the usual sports, but I didn't ever get back in the water. I can't give any reason for that except that I couldn't find a place to swim. After competing so much, I had no desire to really look for a pool or a swim club. I was burned out. I had had it with swimming."

But over the years the once slender, muscular young man found himself ballooning to a mammoth 280 pound old man. Then one day, when he was feeling a bit under the weather, Wilson looked at himself in the mirror. What he saw was an older, more pale man than he had remembered.

That shock, combined with the news from his doctor that he had diabetes, got Wilson moving again. His doctor ordered him to lose weight and start exercising.

"I decided to join the Masters swimming program both for physical fitness and the competition," Wilson said. The Masters program is for swimmers over the age of 25. The group of Milwaukee swimmers works out at Wauwatosa West High School from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

"It is a great program because it gives me a reason to get in shape," he

'Too many people hit 65 and sit around waiting for their funerals.'

said. "The competition gives me a purpose, a goal.

"This program is great for ex-jocks because you can get a complete workout in a minimal amount of time. Football, basketball and tennis are all sports which need more than one person. But swimming, gee, you can jump in a pool all by yourself and get a workout in a half hour or an hour if you're willing to do the work."

Wilson now holds national records in the 100 yard individual medley (1:11.56) and 100 yard butterfly (1:15.98). His record in the 200 yard butterfly 3:04.10, which he set last year, was recently broken.

Wilson said that many adults — even those who are in their 30s — are scared off by the Masters program. The word "race" turns them off.

"A lot of people think they aren't good enough," Wilson said. "I remember running into a woman out at Pulaske High School who was a fine swimmer. She had swum all her life and even taught swimming. But she was afraid to join the Masters group.

"That way of thinking really surprises me. Our society is competitive. We win and lose all the time. We strive for goals daily. And to be afraid of a swim meet?"

Wilson also laughs at age.

"I never think about age until I write it on the entry forms," he said. "I have been to clinics concerning Masters swimming. And one third of all the lectures have to do with the mental approach. A lot of people tend to relax too much and say, 'Ah, the heck with it.'

"Well, the mental alertness of the people involved in the Masters program is phenomenal. Too many people hit 65 and sit around waiting for their funerals.

"I have worked out with many swim clubs in the area, and in the summer with high school kids," Wilson said. "And they can't believe that I am as old as their grandparents because most of their grandparents don't do any form of vigorous exercise.

"I get such a kick out of swimming with the kids. But I'll tell you, when the 10 or 12 year old girls beat the heck out of me, it makes me so mad. Really, I couldn't begin to swim like them."

Wilson is also amazed at the heavy training programs in which swimmers are now involved. He is logging more yards right now — up to 2,000 a day — than he did when he was a world class swimmer.

"We used to take a hot shower and jump in the pool and swim a couple hundred yards," Wilson said. "I work harder now than I ever did. When I was swimming, men wore full suits like the women wear today. It wasn't until around 1940 that men were allowed to wear trunks.

"It changed the men's times immensely. I wouldn't be surprised to see the gals wear trunks in the future — with what they wear to swim nowadays, they might as well.

"And when I think of the times... Why the average high school swimmer today could have been an Olympian back when I was young. I remember swimming when Johnny Weissmuller's world record in the 100 freestyle was 59 seconds. Now, the state high school girls' record is about 53 seconds.

"Swimming has the reputation now of being a country club sport," he said. "Years ago it was a military sport. The Japanese Olympic team that creamed the United States team in 1932 was made up of Army men. The whole team was later wiped out in an underwater mission. The Japanese had them planting mines."

Wilson stopped and laughed. He was a Navy man in World War II.

"There were times when I never thought I'd live past 48," Wilson said. "During World War II, I never thought I'd reach 30. And now here I am with two national records in Masters swimming. I never planned to be doing this.

"I've spent a lot of my own time and money in swimming. I don't even want to tell you how much money I've spent, but it is cheaper than belonging to a country club.

"You know, I hardly play golf anymore — and I used to play two or three times a week before I started swimming. Well, I played two rounds last summer, and I have taken five or 10 strokes off my 18 hole score. I attribute that to all the swimming I do. Swimming has developed my rhythm and my shoulders and upper body.

"It's funny. A little while ago I went to a doctor with a bad shoulder. He was one of the top orthopedic surgeons in the country. And you know what he told me? He told me I needed to exercise."

MASTERS SWIMMING NOTES

NAUTILUS AQUATIC CLUB NEWSLETTER - For canniness and sheer ingenuity there's no substitute for experience--either in the water or alongside it. A veteran Master swimmer, because he loves swimming and likes swimmers, took a part-time job as a lifeguard at a large private pool. For much of the day the pool is nearly empty and our lifeguard sat up on the guard chair getting more and more bored. Reading was, of course, absolutely prohibited to the guards, as it always should be, but small radios weren't. Eventually our guard had it up to here with the kind of music that fills the airwaves these days; and it was then that his fertile mind went to work. Like all of us, our guard hadn't gotten around to reading a great many books he wanted to when he was younger. The guard job and the empty pool would have been the ideal opportunity to catch up..but reading was barred. Finally the brilliant idea struck. Cassetts for the blind! Many thousands of books, both fiction and non-fiction, have been recorded on cassettes for non-sighted people. Our guard found they weren't difficult to borrow because in return he volunteered to do some reading for the program. So now our guard sits contentedly high on his guard chair, a quietly whirring cassette alongside him, and in his ear a little amplifier plug. There's a pleased smile on our guard's face as he looks out over the nearly empty pool.

GETTING A CLUB OR ORGANIZATION ACTIVE IN THE AAU

1. Purchase the following AAU publications:
 - a. Directory - listing all national committees and local members
 - b. Swimming rule book
 - c. AAU Code Book - tells how the AAU is organized and lists rules for registration
2. Contact the Secretary of your Association. (Located in the Directory). Your Secretary can tell you how to join your Association and can give you other Association information.
3. Contact the Registration Chairman of your Association. (Located in the Directory) Your Reg. Chair. can give you a supply of registration forms. Each one of your swimmers who wishes to participate in AAU meets must be registered.
4. Contact your Association Masters Chairman for information on meets and where to get meet information.

After you have accomplished the above items, you should be ready to become active in the AAU program. It will be necessary for your club or organization to have a constitution and by-laws before being eligible to join your Association. Your Sec. will send you a sample copy.....

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

New Renewal
ONE YEAR - NINE ISSUES

USA $6.00 - CANADA $8.00 - FOREIGN $10.00

SWIM-MASTER RENEWALS - There is still some confusion over when to renew! Look at the above subscription form. If you see a red stamp... TIME TO RENEW...then this is your last issue unless you renew. Now look at the number on your label. The first number is the last issue that you will receive in the year of the last two numbers. i.e. 379 - The third issue of 1979 will be your last issue.....

TOP TEN PATCHES and/or NUMERALS - You can order these from Harry Fox, 0*H*1*0 Masters Swim Club, P.O. Box 922, Massillon, OH 44646, if you were listed in the National Top Ten. Send details of where you were listed with $3.00 for a patch and 50 cents for a numeral.....

NATIONAL MASTERS SWIMMING PATCHES - These newly designed red, white and blue AAU patches can be purchased through SWIM-MASTER for $2.00. Just send your request to June Krauser, 2308 N.E. 19th Ave., Ft. Lauderdale, FL 33305.....

1979 LONG COURSE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS -There is a distinct possibility that the prospective dates of August 24-27, 1979 for the pool at the University of Texas at Austin may be in conflict with maintenance operations which are often scheduled at that time of year. So, with Detroit being second in our bidding at San Antonio, our 1979 LC meet might have to be rescheduled for Detroit.

A TALE OF SIX CITIES! - I am convinced that Therese DeFarge was there with her knitting and was screaming for my head to drop into the basket, and, certainly, Charles Darnay could not have been more worried. His was a Paris prison -- mine a large medical center. On Nov. 7 I was sentenced to a ten day term at the St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Lafayette, IN with my left eye 7mm out of its socket with pain at times to want to climb the walls. Three doctors could not find the cause after brain scans, thyroid scan, orbital scans, spinal tap, blood tests, fluid tests, skin tests, IV's with antibiotics, cortisone pills, and extensive eye examinations. Hope the doctors find the culprit, but surely a Sidney Carton will come along...Irv Merritt.....
